

Eid al Fitr

The awaited day is here ! it's Eid. The day of happiness, prosperity, ecstasy, joy, brotherhood, forgiveness, comfort and most of all thanking the almighty. It is the day when a true believer rejoices in the bounties bestowed by his creator. The day when he hosts celebrations at his house and entertains his guests. Eid is not just about eating and making others eat, it is about forgiving everyone who wronged us and showing love to our dear ones. This is indeed the command of our Lord that we love our neighbors, relatives, kin and on the day of Eid we show this love. This is a day of worship and thanksgiving, as we should be grateful to almighty Allah that he gave us life to see this day. After the holy month of Ramadan, where a believer works day and night to please his Lord, comes the day of Eid the day which is indeed happiness for the fasting and praying Muslims.

But some illiterate and indecent people tend to spoil the decorum and serenity of this blessed day by holding 'Bike Races', flooding cinema houses, racing through Allys and roads. Tell me O dear one ! is this what this pious day asks of you ? Is this the day to fill our eyes with the fire of hell ? Is this the day to hear the evil sound of music ? Or is this the day to perform the devilish task of dancing ?

The answer to all the above questions is a big NO ! then tell me O followers of the Beloved Prophet (ﷺ) ! why do you spend this holy day sinning and earning wrath of the almighty with your bad deeds ? Stop today and repent to your Lord and become practicing Muslims or be ready for the raging fire.

An-Najm Islamic Media
Learn Quran Hadith Fiqah

8527632019
9837777689